

Web Page Design & Functionality Report

1.1 Concept & Layout

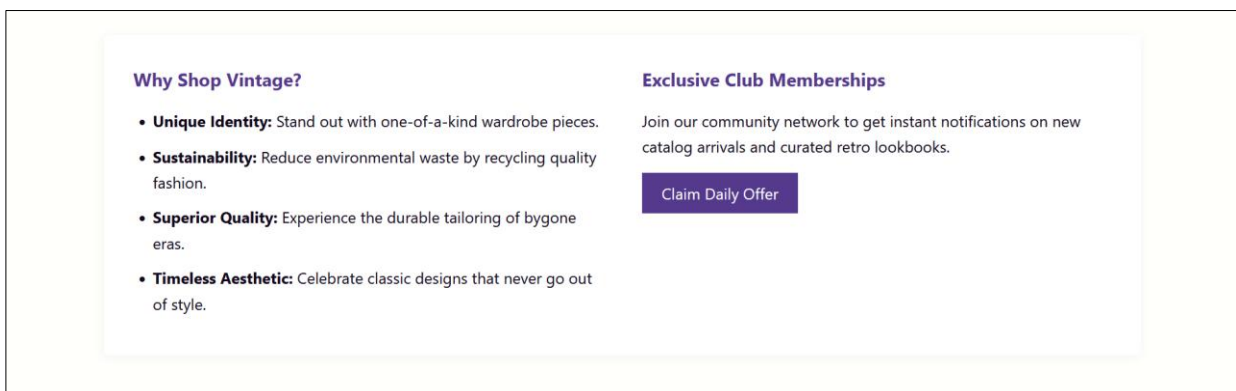

I designed a responsive web page for a vintage boutique named "The Retro Room." The design aims for a clean, elegant aesthetic using an earth-toned color palette that reflects a classic style. It is built using standard semantic HTML5 structure, styled with custom CSS3, and made interactive with native JavaScript.

1.2 Implementation of Core Requirements

- 5 Images: Included 5 high-quality, themed collection photos structured inside a modern CSS Grid layout that adapts gracefully to any device window.

- 1 Ordered/Unordered List: Used an unordered list () under the "Why Shop Vintage?" section to display the benefits of recycling fashion.

- 1 Simple Animation: Applied a smooth @keyframes CSS animation (slideIn) to the main landing title (<h1>), making it fade and glide gently down on page load.

- 1 Table with Data: Created a structured HTML table displaying the weekly operational hours of the boutique shop.

Boutique Opening Hours
Day of the Week	Opening Time	Closing Time	Status
Monday - Friday	09:00 AM	06:00 PM	Open
Saturday	10:00 AM	04:00 PM	Half Day
Sunday	Closed	Closed	Holiday

- 5 Hyperlinks: Built 4 custom navigational links in the fixed header menu and a 5th "Back to Top" navigation button inside the page footer.
- JavaScript Function: Developed a function named revealWelcome(). When a user clicks the "Claim Daily Offer" button, this function dynamically modifies the DOM to instantly display a unique 20% discount code on the screen.
- Responsive Web Design: Leveraged modern layout techniques like CSS Flexbox, Media Queries (@media), and fluid grid patterns. This ensures the entire interface seamlessly rearranges and looks beautiful on both desktop monitors and small mobile screens.
